Emergency Planning for Sporting Clubs

2. Communication

- ▲ Everyone involved in an incident should be aware of who is responsible for contacting emergency services and only that person should contact them.

We've all watched major professional sporting events and often witnessed incidents that stop play and result in players being severely injured to the extent that intensive medical attention is required. Often in these circumstances the player may be carried by stretcher off the field, and sometimes transported to hospital for specialist treatment or precautionary tests.

The response to these types of incidents is delivered according to a well documented, drilled and executed emergency procedure often involving many more people than just the medical personnel seen attending the incident. These types of incidents are not exclusive to professional and elite sporting events and are just as likely to occur at community sporting activities.

A comprehensive emergency plan should be in place to cover all types of emergency. As well as medical emergencies, they may also include incidents such as fire, violence and environmental threats.

All sporting clubs and venues have a responsibility to provide a safe environment for those in their care. This includes having a clearly documented plan that outlines the actions and processes that need to be fulfilled in an emergency situation.

So, how well is your club equipped to deal with a medical emergency? This resource aims to assist sporting clubs to develop their own medical emergency plan by pointing out some of the items that may need to be considered.

A typical emergency plan may include reference to items such as:

1. Roles and Responsibilities

- ▲ Each person should be familiar with their role and the actions required of them in an emergency. This may include coaches, officials, volunteers, parents etc.

Emergency plans should be documented and be communicated to all club members and participants. These plans should be updated and rehearsed regularly for reinforcement of actions.

Sample Emergency Plan

Roles and Responsibilities

- In the advent of a medical emergency/serious injury the assigned people will assume the following roles. (each role should be accompanied by a list of duties and multiple roles may be required to be filled by one person)
- * Emergency Co-ordinator - (insert name)
 - * Sports First Aid - (insert name/s)
 - * Crowd Control - (insert names)
 - * Communication Co-ordinator - (insert name)

In instances where any of the assigned people are not available an alternative representative must fill their role.

Leadership

- The Emergency Co-ordinator (insert name) will be responsible for ensuring that all aspects of the plan are fulfilled before during and after the incident. This may include:
- ▲ Availability of personnel at events
 - ▲ Sports first aid and communication resources
 - ▲ Direction of personnel at incidents

5. Contacts

- ▲ Someone must inform parents, legal guardians or next of kin following the incident.
- ▲ The type of details to be conveyed should also be clearly specified and medical details should only be conveyed by, or with approval from medical personnel.

6. Reporting

- ▲ A sign will be erected to identify the location of the Sports first aid area
- ▲ It is the responsibility of the Sports First-Aider to keep the first aid kit stocked. The Sports first aid kit

- ▲ All incidents should be well documented using an incident response form. Completed forms should be securely stored for future reference.
